

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

CHARLES C. IRBY is Chairman of the Ethnic Studies Department at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona, California, and President of the National Association of Interdisciplinary Ethnic Studies.

J. FREDERICK FAUSZ is presently serving as a National Historical Publications and Records Commission fellow in historical editing with the Papers of B. H. Latrobe at the Maryland Historical Society. During the academic year 1976-77 he was a fellow with the Native-American history program at the Newberry Library in Chicago.

GRETCHEN BATAILLE is in the English Department at Iowa State University, Ames, and for several years has taught courses on Native-American literature.

STEPHEN S. FUGITA is in the Psychology Department at the University of Akron, Akron, Ohio.

PHILIP N. HENRY is an assistant editor with the Black Abolitionist Papers Project at the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse. He is a graduate of North Carolina Central University, Durham, with both Bachelor and Masters degrees in history.
